

The installation of metering equipment within your premises must be conducted by an electrician – and we know who to call. Wattics has built a network of certified electricians throughout the Republic of Ireland and abroad that can work with you to install our metering system with minimum disruption to your business.

Contact us if you need an electrician

If you have your own trusted electricians, we will provide a suite of installation manuals detailing every single step of the installation.

Common guidelines to the installation process:

- Installation must take place according to the documentation provided, using suitable equipment and tools.
- Devices must be installed without voltage applied and by qualified personnel.
- General safety regulations and nationally applicable accident prevention guidelines must be observed.

Do you know electricians who can install the meters

- Electrical installation must be carried out according to the relevant safety guidelines

Ah, and don't worry about the software installation, it's all automated.
